

GEDECHNISLEICHT [NAME] [URGLAAWE DATE] [CALENDAR DATE]

ROBERT LUSCH (MIT DENKI ZUM BRIAN WEIS)

REV - 1 - 2

Honoring: [Name], son/daughter [parents]; brother/sister of [sibling]; grandson of [grandparents]; betrothed/husband/wife of [as appropriate]; member of [kindred affiliation, if appropriate].

Unser Zweck - Our Purpose

We are here for many reasons. Foremost, we wish to celebrate the life of [Name] and to stand with [the family] in this time of grief.

The range of human emotions is welcomed here today. Feel free to cry, to laugh, and to express any emotion.

This ceremony will differ somewhat from a typical Urglaawe rite. Usually, we stand in a circle and pass the Stein from one person to the next. However, today, the Stein will remain on the altar. People are encouraged to approach the altar one at a time, to take the Stein, and to share their memories or thoughts. When everyone who has wished to speak has done so, we will begin the Schmaus (feast). The Stein will remain on the altar during the Schmaus so that people may make private hails to [Name].

Additionally, we have slips of paper upon which you may write your private thoughts or prayers. This is an opportunity for individuals to express to [Name] in writing any private prayers, thoughts, or unresolved issues. Instructions are on the slips of paper.

After the feast is completed and appropriate offerings are made, we will receive the Sege (blessing). We will then commence the Leichtlaaf (procession), at which time the folk will stand along the processional path. You are invited to place your slips of paper, flowers, and other gifts that will accompany [Name] on [his/her] journey.

[Name]'s element was [air, fire, water, earth]. We will observe moments of silence and contemplation as [Name] joins [his/her] element to begin his journey to the ancestors and ultimately to [his/her] next life.

We will then receive the Reiniching (Cleansing), after which we will then cut the sacred space. Guests are encouraged to engage in a time of fellowship.

[Name] was a [man/woman] of community. It is most appropriate for us to meet new people, to make new friends, to extinguish old conflicts, and to build bridges. Let us continue his work and advance his vision of a stable, loving community and a better world for future generations.
